CO-ED OF ELBA DIES AT SCHOOL FROM HANGING

Rosalyn Jay Lane, 20, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thorne Lane of Elba, hanged herself in her dormitory room at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, Monday, August 3. She had physical handicaps resulting from an attack of polio when she was only a year old at Panama City, Fla., where her father was then editor of the Daily News-Herald.

Visiting Here
After the attack she underwent repeated serious operations on her legs and back and still walked with short crutches on each arm. She had visited her parents in Elba at Christmas time the last two years. She was an honor student and popular with her fellow students, all of whom had been impressed by her apparent happy disposition. She had attended classes Monday morning and seemed to be in her usual good spirits. She went to her room about 11 a.m. and about twenty minutes later a maid found her body.

She left a note saying: "Don't grieve over me, I know what I am doing. I think this way best," and directed that her clothes be given to the daughter of the dormitory maid.

College Two Years
Rosalyn had attended Woman's College, University of North Carolina, Greensboro, the past two years and had just completed the first semester of a summer course at the main university at Chapel Hill with grades of A and B.

She is survived by her parents, her father being manager of The Elba Clipper, and two sisters, Mrs. R. J. Sizemore of Chicago and Mrs. C. W. Rayle of Orlando.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 3 p.m. at the Elba Methodist Church with Rev. Ralph R. Hendricks, pastor of the church, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Murray L. Seay, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Paulsboro, and the members of Elba Lodge, No. 170, Free and Accepted Masons.

THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!

Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper in a NAS-CAR-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outperformed both of the "other two" time after time.

award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet's Chevy for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines... for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need greasing.

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.

greater roominess

Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts of this in a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat room than all but one of the big priced cars. And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5 inches wider than comparable cars.

bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sedans with Powerglide took the first two places in their class. Winning mileage, 22.38 m.p.g. And that, friends, took top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

By T. C. Self and Joe Wildman, SCS.

Coastal bermuda and reseeded clover in combination are playing a major role on the W. H. Taylor cattle farm. On a 10-acre field of clover and coastal 15 head of young cattle and 5 head of brood cows were grazed beginning in early spring. These cows received very little other feed.

The clover produced a good seed crop this year, however, rain during the harvest season prevented saving the seed.

Hay harvested from this field in comparison to another clover field that did not have clover has shown the nitrogen producing ability of the clover. 120 bales of hay per acre were produced on the clover field where only 90 bales were produced on the non-clover field. The increase in hay yield, the grazing benefits plus soil protection added up to a good investment.

Cooperators of the Coffee County Soil Conservation District, along with those throughout the county, are honored by the issuance of the world's first Soil Conservation stamp. The stamp is to be issued August 26 at Rapid City, S. D.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Sealia Bryan Morrow; eight daughters: Mrs. Lilia Willis, Mrs. Ella Willis, Mrs. Willie Taylor, Mrs. Eula McCarty, Mrs. Ada Ennis, Mrs. Jessie Ross, Mrs. Annie Lou Killreane and Mrs. Vondie Wise, six sons: D. J. Morrow, Coston Morrow, Felix Morrow, Hubert Morrow and Shelby Morrow. He also leaves 78 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. P. F. Clark and Mrs. P. H. Murphy chaperoned a party of girls on a visit to the Gulf coast. Included in the party were Misses: Thelma Banks, Maggis Dean Clark, Dorothy Murphy, Jean Brunson, Martha Frances Dowling, Gwendolyn Boutwell, Marjorie Murphy, and Joan Clark.

Charles F. Clark Finishes ROTC

Charles F. Clark, Jacksonville State College, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Clark, of Route 5, Elba, was among more than 1500 Reserve Officers Training Corps cadets who successfully completed the six-week 1959 Fort Benning ROTC Camp. Closing ceremonies were held Friday, July 31.

The training program was designed to prepare cadets for commissions in the United States Army Reserve.

MR. RETAILER!

YOU LOSE 3 OUT OF 10 Customers Every Year AND 30 PER CENT OF YOUR BUSINESS LEAVES WITH THEM!

Hard to believe, but true! If yours is an average business, you LOSE 30% of your customers each year. If you don't believe it, look through last year's accounts and see how many are no longer active.

WHY?

DO YOU LOSE THEM?

Through death, moving to another community or through the efforts of hard-driving competitors—a variety of reasons, some of them beyond your control.

At the same time, there's a normal business increase Of Only 4% Each Year.

That leaves you facing a 26% handicap each year—a handicap you must overcome if your business is to remain healthy and profitable.

What Do You Do About It?

The answer lies in better merchandising, better planning, more vigorous promotion of fast-selling goods and service.

The surest, most profitable method of sales promotion is consistent, timely newspaper advertising.

ADVERTISING IS THE LIFE OF TRADE

(The Above reprinted from The Montgomery Advertiser)

And advertising is news. Newspaper readers want advertising because it's news. They want to read about the latest values. Surveys have shown that, among the various features in a newspaper, advertising ranks first in interest with the women and second with the men.

Nothing sells a city to the surrounding area like a newspaper. Nothing sells a merchant's products like a newspaper.

151,808 COLLINS

As expected, Congress passed price support limitations... not much doubt but that the President will sign the bill into law... limitations are set at $30,000 per commodity... means that you can receive a support of $30,000 for your cotton and also an equal amount for your soybeans, if you grow both items... some exceptions, however: you may receive support in excess of $30,000 for one commodity if you agree to pay back the excess within a specified time (treasury loans)... or if you reduce your production in accordance with rules set up by the Secretary of Agriculture... doesn't need to be dyed... wonder it's red?

Penalty Rates

Cotton farmers who exceed their acreage allotments take note: here are penalty rates for "excess" cotton... upland cotton, 121 cents per pound... extra long staple cotton, 40.9 cents per pound.

Colored Cotton???

The Russians who invented the telephone, radio, automobile and the ability to take credit for most everything someone else does, have a new claim... they say they are growing a red cotton that doesn't need to be dyed... wonder it's red?

Surplus Down??

The same group... ICAC, that is... also thinks that there will be an increase in consumption especially in the U. S. and Canada... all this adds up to a slight reduction in stocks.

Crop Estimate

An estimate of U. S. cotton for this year places the yield at 14 million bales... this figure comes from the International Cotton Advisory Committee... group also thinks foreign production will be lower... we had about 11.5 million bales produced in the U. S. last year... estimate of world production this year is 28.9 million... last year it was 27.8 million.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Miss Mary Jo Owens Wed To Mr. Fuller
By Rev. Bozeman In West Side Church

Miss Mary Jo Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Thomas Owens, was wed to Mr. David Cranford Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Eugene a program of organ music and Mrs. John Frank Lindsey of Enterprise sang "The Lord's Prayer". Mr. Roy Fuller of Nashville, Tenn., brother of the groom sang, "Oh, Sweet Mystery of Life."

The altar was centered with a white wrought iron arch entwined with emerald and jade foliage. Standard baskets of white gladioli flanked the arch as did cathedral candelabra of white candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white-length gown of lace and net over taffeta. Lace formed the long sleeves and the delicate lace neckline which was encrusted with seed pearls. Lace flowers were appliqued down the left side of the skirt. Her fingertip veil was attached to a Juliet cap of lace and pearls. The bride carried a white orchid. She wore a pearl necklace and a ring.

Mr. Fuller was attended by his father as best man. Mr. Randolph Chancellor and Mr. Wayne Grantham were ushers. is the size of a Government Post Card, by actual measurement. To mail this card to 1,000 families would cost $30.00 for the card and postage alone. To print a message on the back would cost, on the average, $7.50 per thousand. Addressing would cost another $5.00 per thousand.

That's a total of $42.50 to send a postcard advertisement to a thousand families.

Yet this space in The Elba Clipper costs a regular advertiser only $6.30. It reaches almost twice as many families. That advertiser's money helps The Elba Clipper to serve a subscriber at only a fraction of the cost of a subscription if the newspaper had no advertising.

To sum up: The advertisement reaches more people at one-seventh the cost and the advertiser serves every subscriber because he enables The Elba Clipper to supply the news at less cost.

Through the Keyhole

BY MRS. ROBERT CANNON

TO US the words "Lake Tahoe" have always sounded extremely romantic and fascinating. Perhaps because so many world famous people consider it a favorite vacation spot. And there for a long visit this week are Mrs. W. C. Braxwell and Mrs. Guy Folsom. They went to California via Chicago where they planned to spend one day and then on to Lake Tahoe to see Mrs. Bonnie Barnett. It sounds like a wonderful trip.

HOW PLEASED we were to receive a card from Mrs. John Garrett. She says that she is enjoying her summer in New York with her daughter, Margaret and that Jeanette is doing grand work at Rochester University. We'll be glad to have Mrs. Garrett back at home again. Our church is not the same without Mrs. Garrett in her favorite pew.

A SPAGHETTI supper served at the county cabin, crierets singing a halleluiah their own pine trees, all the ingredients necessary for a wonderful evening.

Frances Conner entertained at the Jim Whitman's cabin for Mrs. Ben Frank Conner of Hopedale, Ga., and Mrs. Glyn Vickers of Decatur, who were in town for several days. Katherine Dorsey, Mary Hobbs, Marjorie Taylor, Totie Rhodes, Gladys Clark, June Ray Jones and Martha Ham.

CHAPTER 12
THOUGH he tried to hurry his hand, Mordecai Price spent until midmorning getting the outfit he needed. Somebody had given Rhoda Marsh good advice about trade goods. It was a fact. She had plenty of beads, good flint, and a heap of vermilion in paper towels, as well as some Goddard like tiny hawking bells.

From Fast Runner he learned that the Rocky Mountain train, with Big Nose Yonzer in charge, had gone upriver ten days ago. Considering that they were traveling light with the pack critters to pick up goods from the keelboat at the mouth of the Flatte, they weren't making very good time.

During the trading Mordecai sensed that something was being tucked. The Otosso Fast Runner asked him where he had got his square, and it was a touch as she walked, since Rhoda had been jumping on the Otosso first saw well that still swam. He was about ready to get Rhoda and leave, when Fast Runner stepped out of a lodge, grinning and yawning at the same time. "You could have saved us all the swim, Mord. They had a sack."

The Otosso laughed. They didn't understand the words, but the surprise on Mordecai's face was enough. It was very funny, only, only to discover the second man was ahead. Mordecai didn't think it was funny. "What are you up to, Rea?"

"Just going to rendezvous, is all, like you."

FHA Committeemen For Area Selected
Mr. Ira R. Allen, R-1, New Brockton; Mr. Roy L. Ellis, R-1, Enterprise; and Mr. Paul L. Woodall, R-1, Midland City are serving as the Coffee - Dale Area Committee for the Farmers Home Administration. They will serve as area committee-men for the two counties rather than each county having a three-man committee as heretofore.

All loan applications must be approved by the committee before funds can be advanced. The committee also helps the county supervisor adopt the agency's loan policies and serves to local conditions. The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy livestock and machinery, to finance annual operating costs, to improve buildings and fences, and to purchase land.

CARDS MAILED
Cotton marketing cards will soon be mailed to growers in Coffee county by the County ASC office, according to Lester Gunter, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. The cards are for identification of upland cotton produced in 1959 on the one farm for which the particular card is issued. The chairman explains that the marketing card will be needed in either selling the cotton or putting it under loan.

FRIDAY evening, twenty-three of the younger set gathered at Doris Brock's home for a gala party honoring Madalyn Brunson Miller. The other hostesses were Grace Waters, Mary Hickman and Annie Bess Rowe.

The dining room table was lace covered and centered with pink carnations and flanked by pink candles in branched silver candelabra. Sandwiches cut in diamond and heart shapes brought many compliments from the guests as did the arrangement of miniature zinnias on the coffee table.

Many shiny new kitchen gadgets and appliances were presented to Madalyn in a pretty clothes basket.

A Powerful Western Historical Novel
RENDEZVOUS
By STEVE FRAZEE
From the author of "The Last Days of Pompeii" and "The Last Days of Pompeii"

INSTALLMENT No. 12
"You working for Jim Shandy?"

The look of disgust Rea showed was an honest answer. "I think the same as you do about Shandy," Rea showed his temper. "Who says I can't come here, do some trading for horses, and have me a nap?"

"You got that right," Mordecai said darkly. He went to get Rhoda.

It stunned him to see the way she looked when the Indian woman woke her. Her hair was braided. Put the right clothes on her and she could dangle right pass as a Cheyenne woman. That hadn't been Mordecai's idea when he did some trading with one of the women, but it sure struck him home.

"I got some clothes for you," he pointed to a woman holding a sack-like Indian dress and several pairs of moccasins.

"Thank you, but I'm quite comfortable in my own—Rhoda saw Rea. She gave a happy cry of surprise and went to him. Mordecai watched them grumpily. It was a sight, the way Rea smirked. Mordecai took the clothes from the square and tied them on one of the pack horses. "Let's go!"

Rhoda came over to him. "Since Rea has joined us, and is going on with us, I've decided to continue by land."

"Who said he was going with us?" Mordecai growled.

"Why should you object, Mr. Price? Mordecai was getting sick of the politeness. Well, since Rea was here it wouldn't hurt to have him along, especially since Mordecai could watch him and maybe find out what he was up to. "Let's go, then," he said.

He leaned against his pony while Rea helped the woman with her plunder. Took a whole damn pack horse to carry just her stuff. Were now in Mordecai's possible sack. He'd straightened that out later.

Look at that Rea! Acting like a Memphis gentleman, the way he was bustling around to help her. Even helped her into the saddle. She was going to ride side-wise. In a Sioux saddle, high in front and market that the devil's little tail, but let her find out for herself.

Mordecai took out with his two pack horses. Rea had a pack horse of his own, but that was his look. For a while Rea stayed behind with Rhoda, and then rode up to join Mordecai.

Had her about convinced on going back, and then you showed up. "Promised to take her, didn't you? Been paid, ain't you?" Mordecai looked at Rea darkly. "You going all the way to rendezvous?"

"Going toward it, but I ain't sure just when I'll get there," Rea answered.

Rhoda stopped in a grove of trees. Pretting, Mordecai and Rea waited for her to come out. They waited fifteen minutes.

When she came out she was riding astride. Rea gawped like a stranded fish when he saw her long ruffled pantaloons that reached almost to her ankles. Her skirts were pulled high and lunched around the saddle. Rea opened and closed his mouth without speaking, and then said: "Wag! So that's what they're wearing under all them skirts these days. She looks like a Manda dancer getting ready to cut a whirling!"

The way Mordecai sized things, the best way was to cut over to the West Fort of the Soldier, go north to the Big Blue, and then angle west toward the Flatte.

Even counting on the miserable quality of the mules and horses in the Rocky Mountain pack train—Rhoda was telling the truth, saw Rea. She gave a happy cry of surprise and went to him. Mordecai watched them grumpily. It was a sight, the way Rea smirked. Mordecai took the clothes from the square and tied them on one of the pack horses. "Let's go!"

60c Per Pound Cotton—

No, the market price of cotton hasn't jumped to 60c per pound, but that's what Buck Kelly, of Route 4, Elba, received for his first bale this year. For having the first bale of cotton which was not only grown in Coffee county, but ginned in Elba, Kelly, left, was handed a check for $109.50 by Dr. E. M. Warr, middle, president of the Elba Chamber of Commerce, as a gift from the business men of Elba. Jesse Morrow, manager of Goldkist Peanut Growers Club, is at right.

Single Payroll Met In Two-Dollar Bills Friday To Emphasize Firm Progress

Two-dollar bills will be a trademark of Elba Progress this weekend.

Employees of Basil Whitman Motors and Trailers, Inc., will be paid in two-dollar bills Friday afternoon in a move sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce Projects and Promotions committee, of which, Walter Smith is chairman, to publicize the benefits to the entire community which stem from the payroll of an individual local business.

Since two-dollar bills are a rarity, every time a two-dollar bill turns up in a store, barber shop or other place of business for the next few days it will serve as a reminder of the far-reaching benefits of a payroll as dollars are passed from hand to hand.

A single two-dollar bill spent ten times in a day will account for twenty dollars of business activity and to emphasize this point the Chamber of Commerce will sponsor payment in two-dollar bills of other individual businesses from time to time.
